THE NAME KEWLEY

Kewley is a phonetic variation of Kinley, and it is found in Scotland as well as in the Isle of Man. It is an Irish and Scottish name from Mac Fhionnlaoich, although Marstrander suggests that Mac Eoile from the Old Norse *Íóleifr is its origin. Manx records contain these forms:

Mac Kewley	1511
Kewley	1611
Kyuley	1607
Kewloe	1625
Kieoley	1654
Kieole	1659 [1]

THE FAMILY IN MAN

The Manx ancestry of John Kewley of Johaghtiooke has not been proved absolutely. Because Thomas Kewley (see Appendix) who also settled at Johaghtiooke was married at Kirk Marown, a search of the Marown registers was made through the courtesy of the Manx Museum and National Trust. This search brought to light a family which would seem to be that of our ancestor, but further work needs to be done to establish this beyond question.

Thomas Kewley married by 1785 Ann Kermod and had baptized at Kirk Marown, Isle of Man:

Jane Kewley, daughter of Thos. and AnnnKermod, September 25th 1785.

John Kewley, son of Thos. Kewley and Ann Kermod, April 13th 1788, of whom below.

William Kewley, son of Thos. Kewley and Ann Kermode, May 9th 1790; he is probably the William Kewley buried at Marown on August 26th 1794.

William Kewley, son of Thos. and Ann Kermot, September 20th 1795.

James Kewley, son of Thomas and Ann Kermot, March 25th 1798.

Edward Kewley, son of Thos. Kewley and Ann Kermod, April 3rd 1803.

John Kewley, baptized[1] at Kirk Marown on April 13th 1788, seems to have married there on May 22nd 1811, Isabel Cowley; the ceremony was witnessed by John Freer and Thomas Kewley. They had two children[2]:

John Kewley of whom further.

Thomas Kewley baptized at Marown on July 2nd 1815.

---

[1]There were two other John Kewleys baptized at Marown during this period, but one seems too old to be the husband of Isabel Cowley, and the other one, though a good age, has - as is the case with the first - no Thomas in his family, a name occuring twice in connection with the husband of Isabel Cowley:

John, son of John Kewley and Catherine Clarke, bpt. Jan. 3rd 1773.
John, son of Patrick Kewley and Elinor Creer, bpt. July 7th 1788.

[2]The parish registers for Kirk Marown have been checked to 1829 for the children of John and Isabel (Cowley) Kewley. As no baptism is recorded for them after 1815, it seems unlikely that there were other children.

JOHN KOWLEY, son of John and Isabel (Cowley) Kowley, was born in the Isle of Man on October 10th 1813, and was baptized at the Marown Parish Church on December 12th 1813. When he was about twenty years old, he immigrated to America and settled at Schaghticoke, Rensselaer County, New York. It is not known what circumstances led him to the United States, but the letter[1] below probably gives a good indication of the conditions under which he traveled:

Liverpool April 1st 1849

Dear Friends-

We have been in the ship last night and we are going to sail precisely at 2 o'clock this evening. Our freight is 13.10.0. The children is nearly as much as one of ourselves. We are getting one pound of bread stuffs each per day and one pound of beef each per week. The children as much as ourselves. We will get 5 lbs. of potatoes in place of 1 lb. of flour and 3 quarts of water each per day, which will make twelve in the day.

We have had a deal of expense since we came here paying for everything. This ship is H.M. Wolf - just one trip from American 1200 tons register.

We are all well and in good spirits. The strange people is very civil to us. We are much obliged to you for your kindness to us. Be pleased to let my and Ellen's friends know about us. I will write when I get to New York.

Ellen is anxious how is Mother. She would like to see her once more - and Betsey, Peggy and William, give her kind respects to them all and to Letty Cowley. So there I will end my writing to you at present. With great love.

Wm and Ellen Moore

I have just got your letter now on board the ship. Farewell to all friends for ever.

John Kowley married at Schaghticoke about 1835 JANE CAINE, daughter of Mathias and Margaret (Lewin) Caine of Kirk Braddan, Isle of Man, who had also settled at Schaghticoke.

[1] This letter, which has no specific connection with the family of John Kowley, belongs to Ann Cannell of Kirk Michael, Isle of Man. It was written on a large double sheet folded in three crosswise and once lengthwise. It is addressed on the free side to Mr. Richard Cowley/ Cronkbane/German - Isle of Man.

The federal census for 1840 lists John Kewley at Schaghticoke as the head of a family consisting of:

1 male aged under 5 years (i.e. born 1835-40)
1 male aged of 10 and under 15 (i.e. born 1825-30)
1 male aged of 20 and under 30 (i.e. born 1810-20)
1 female aged under 5 years (i.e. born 1835-40)
1 female aged of 20 and under 30 (i.e. born 1810-20)
1 female aged of 50 and under 60 (i.e. born 1780-90)

Two of these individuals were engaged in manufacturing or trade.

John Kewley was a powder maker at the Schaghticoke powder works. He and John Gallagher were both killed in an explosion there on June 16th 1849, the mill's first explosion since its erection about 1813. His death record appears in the Schaghticoke section of the federal census for 1850:

John Culey aged 36 male married born Isle of Man powder maker died from an explosion in June 1849.

He was buried in the Elmwood Cemetery at Schaghticoke under a stone inscribed:

THE DESCENDANTS OF JOHN AND JANE (CAINE) KEALEY

1. Margaret A. Kealey was born in Schaghticoke, New York, on May 29th 1836. She married about 1856 Peter G. Thompson, a carpenter, born at Johnsonville, New York, on January 12th 1830, son of Henry and Sarah Thompson who moved to Schaghticoke in 1851. They are listed in the state census of 1865, taken in Schaghticoke on June 13th:

   #60 frame house worth $600, #82 Peter Thompson 35 born in Rensselaer County, married once, carpenter.
   Margaret Thompson aged 29 wife mother of one born in Rensselaer County.
   Lottie Thompson aged 7 child single born in Rensselaer County.

   Peter Thompson died at Schaghticoke on October 12th 1897, and was buried in the Elmwood Cemetery. About 1908 his widow moved to Troy, New York, where the directories list her: 1909-10 Margaret A. Thompson (widow Peter G.) 3366 6th Avenue, and 1911, '12, '13: at 3322 6th Avenue. She died of cerebral thrombosis at Troy on January 23rd 1914. Her obituary appeared in the TROY RECORD (page 5) for January 24th 1914:

   > In this city, Jan.23, 1914 at the residence of her grandson, Dr. Fred F. Sprout, 3322 Sixth Ave., Mrs. Margaret A. Thompson, widow of Peter G. Thompson, and formerly of Schaghticoke, N.Y., aged 77 years. Funeral services private at the residence Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Burial Monday at Schaghticoke.

   She was called "Aunt Mag" and is remembered as "a butter ball" in physical appearance. Their children were:

   A. Lottie Thompson born in 1857/8, died at Schaghticoke on August 13th 1887. She married Frank Sprout and had:

      a. Fred F. Sprout, a dentist, married Alice Davis, but was separated from her. They had no children. He had an office at Troy, New York, at 351 Broadway, but in 1915 he moved to Boston, Massachusetts, to teach dentistry at Harvard University.

      b. Beulah Sprout died unmarried on May 25th 1888.

   B. Fred Thompson, born after 1865, was a dentist in Troy, New York. He never married.

2. Edward Kewley was born at Schaghticoke, New York, on October 31st 1838. About 1864 he went to California with a group of fifty people, driving a herd of cattle; they walked nearly the entire distance. On January 11th 1866, he married at San Francisco Annie Carr, who had been born in Rensselaer County, New York, on May 15th 1842. She died at Redwood City, California, on December 26th 1874, as a result of the birth of her son John. Sometime between 1864 and 1874, Edward Kewley made a trip East, once again walking and driving a herd of cattle; mules were used crossing the mountains and through the snow. He and his party were snowed in the Sierra Nevadas for seven months. He was one of three people to survive the trip and was kept in hospital for a year after to recuperate from its hardships. In 1875 he brought his children East and settled at Schaghticoke. For the rest of his life he was a fund of stories of Sacramento, of tree stumps large enough to hold barn dances on, of hollow logs through which a wagon could be driven, and of tree bark so thick an ax would bounce right out of it. He always said that he had once staked a claim to all the land on which Redwood City later developed, but that lack of interest kept him from registering it. On January 20th 1878, he became a member of the Schaghticoke Methodist Church, and on March 17th 1890, he became a Steward of that body. For a Republican parade held in Schaghticoke on November 13th 1888, E.Kewley and others were selected special policemen. In Schaghticoke Ed Kewley earned his living as a butcher. He died there on August 16th 1910, after a year's suffering from cancer of the right kidney. His death record states he was aged 71, was born at Schaghticoke, and was the son of John Kewley and Jane "Kane", both natives of the Isle of Man. Ed Kewley had red hair and luxurious red mustaches; he was not a large man. His children were:

A. Nellie Kewley, born at San Francisco, California, on July 15th 1868, was listed in the 1880 census at Schaghticoke with her grandmother Kewley as a white female aged 11 born in California, parents born in New York State, attended school within the year. She died of consumption at North Adams, Massachusetts, on October 21st 1883, and was buried in the Elmwood Cemetery at Schaghticoke with a stone inscribed:

NELLIE KEWLEY
DIED
Oct. 21, 1883
AE 15 yrs. 3 mos.
& 6 ds.

The Lord gave and the
Lord hath taken away,
Blessed be the name of the Lord.

B. John Kewley, born at Redwood City, California, on October 31st 1873, was a sensation among the Indians when his father brought him East in 1875. He had bright, curly red hair, which the Indians claimed they would not touch for fear of being burned; at other times they would brush it and pretend to see sparks fly out into the air. They offered to buy him for many skins and promised to raise him carefully and take him a chief when he came of age. Throughout the west he could never be left unattended or even laid down as he was likely to be stolen at any opportunity. The Indians were interested only in a red headed boy, however, and were not at all attracted by Nellie whose hair was also bright red. John Kewley himself never liked his curly hair, and he usually wore a hat to keep it from being seen. In 1880 the census shows him living in Schaghticoke with his grandmother Kewley, aged 5, white male, born in California, parents born in New York, attended school within the year. John Kewley became a jack spinner in a cloth mill near Schaghticoke in 1897, an occupation he pursued for the rest of his life. He died on March 2nd 1908; this notice appeared in a local paper:

> John Kewley, a jackspinner at the Rob Roy mill at one time, died this morning at his home at Pleasantdale. He was a former resident of Schaghticoke. He is survived by his wife, who was Jane Chambers, previous to marriage; two daughters, Mrs. James Matthews and Mrs. John Fountain, and two sons, John and Edward Kewley. The funeral will take place Monday afternoon from the residence and interment will be at Schaghticoke.

3. Charlotte Fowler was born at Johnghticoke, New York, on October 17th 1841. She married John Spencer and by 1873 had moved to Manchester, New Hampshire, where she lived for many years. She died of cerebral paralysis and (organic heart?) at Troy, New York, on February 20th 1913. Her obituary in the Manchester DAILY MIRROR AND AMERICAN for February 21st 1913, reads:

> Mrs. Charlotte Spencer, mother of John T. Spencer and Mrs. Edward C. Smith, passed away yesterday morning in Troy, N.Y. at the age of 72 years. Mrs. Spencer was the widow of the late John Spencer, for many years in charge of the dyeing in the Stark mills, under agent Thirshan Adams. Mrs. Spencer died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Margaret Thompson, and the news will be received by her many friends here with the deepest regret. She was a native of New York state, but came to this city more than 40 years ago, winning many friends, who mourn her passing out. Until a comparatively recent period she made her home in Manchester with her daughter, Mrs. Smith.

A notice of her death also appeared in the Troy paper:

> Spencer - In this city Feb. 20, 1913 at the residence of her nephew, Dr. Fred H. Sproat, 3122 Sixth Ave., Mrs. Charlotte F. Spencer. Prayer at the residence this (Thursday) evening at 8:30 o'clock. Friends are invited to attend. Burial at Manchester, N.H., Sunday.

She is reputed to have been the best looking member of the family. Her children were:

B. John T. Spencer was an actor and never married.

APPENDIX

There is a second Kewley family which emigrated from Marown, Isle of Man, to Schaghticoke, Rensselaer County, New York. Although there is a very slight tradition in both families that they are related, and the common origin and settlement makes such a connection reasonable, no relationship has yet been established between them.

Thomas Kewley was born on the Isle of Man in 1791. He married there in the parish of Marown on September 18th 1813, Margaret Quayle, born in 1792, a sister of Thomas Quayle who on January 10th 1848, addressed a letter from No.1 Upper Stanhope Street, Liverpool, England, to his nephew: John Kewley, Taylor, Schaghticoke Valley, Rensselaer County, State of New York. Thomas and Margaret immigrated to Schaghticoke in 1827/8; they are not shown in the census for 1830, but that of 1840 lists Thomas Kewley as head of a family of:

2 males under 5 years of age (i.e. born 1835-40)
1 male aged of 15 and under 20 (i.e. born 1820-5)
1 male aged of 40 and under 50 (i.e. born 1790-1800)
1 female aged of 15 and under 20 (i.e.born 1820-5)
1 female aged of 20 and under 30 (i.e. born 1810-20)
1 female aged of 40 and under 50 (i.e. born 1790-1800)

Thomas Kewley died in Schaghticoke in 1847, and Margaret died in 1863; both are buried in the Elmwood Cemetery. They had a reputation as a musical family. Their children, all born on the Isle of Man, were:

SPELLING OF THE NAME

There is some variation in the spelling of the name in our branch of the family. On the tombstones in Elmwood Cemetery at Schaghticoke, New York, in the Bible of the Edward Mosley family, and in the Bible of Elizabeth Bancroft Hutchins, the name is uniformly spelled "Kane". This spelling is based on oral tradition written down between 1870 and 1920.

There is an older stone in the Elmwood Cemetery, dating from 1839, on which the name appears as "Cain", while the Schaghticoke census records spell the name "Cain", "Cane", and "Kane". Manx records referring to members of our branch of the family invariably use "Caine".

Thus it seems likely that the name was brought to this country as "Caine", but soon became "Cain", "Cane", and then "Kane".

Since "Caine" is the most common Manx form and was originally used by our family, I have maintained that spelling throughout this discussion of the family's history.

THE FAMILY IN MAN

JOHN CAINE was an eighteenth century resident of Kirk Braddan parish on the Isle of Man. In 1786 his residence is given as "Boailley Boare" and ten years later as "Bolliey vanue." In other, earlier, records it is given as "Bonolley veare," "Bolliey vaare," and "Boailley baare." All of these variations refer to the name of John Caine's farm which was probably that listed in Kneen's PLACE NAMES as "Boolley vane" from the Manx "Bwoaillee vane" meaning "white cattle fold," a farm situated in the north of Braddan parish. It might, however, refer to "Ballavere" from the Manx "Beeal y veyr," meaning "routh of the road," a farm lying in the extreme south of the parish.

2025020

About 1770 John Caine married ISABEL KEY, perhaps a daughter of Thoras and Isabel Key of Kirk Braddan. They were the parents of nine children baptized at Kirk Braddan:

1. William Caine son of John Caine and Isobel Key baptized June 28th 1772.

2. Robert Caine son of John Caine and Isobel Key baptized June 5th 1774.

3. Philip Caine son of John Caine and Isobel Key baptized August 18th 1776.

4. Elinor Caine daughter of John Caine and Isobel Key baptized February 14th 1779. "Elinor Caine spinster daughter of John Caine Bolliey vanue" was buried at Kirk Braddan on July 31st 1796.

5. Isabel Caine daughter of John Caine and Isabel Key baptized on March 25th 1781.

6. Thomas Caine son of John Caine and Isabel Key baptized on January 18th 1784.

7. James Caine son of John Caine and Isabell Key his wife Boailley veare baptized on February 19th 1786.

8. MATHIAS CAINE baptized July 25th 1790, of whom further.

9. Elizabeth Caine daughter of John Caine senr./servr. Boilleyvan/ore and Isabell Key his wife baptized on February 9th 1794.

10.? If in this last entry John Caine is John Caine, senior, there is probably an earlier child about grown to manhood at this time, John Caine, Jr.

MATHIAS CAINE was baptized at Kirk Braddan on July 25th 1790, the "son of John Caine and Isabell Key."[1] In 1813 he got with child MARGARET LEWIN, daughter of Thomas and Margaret (Quine) Lewin, whom he married at Kirk Braddan on April 9th 1814. The record of their marriage reads:

> Matthias Caine and Margt. Lewin both of this parish were married in this church by license this 9th Apl. 1814 by me
> Thos. Howard Vicr.
> This marriage was solemnised between us
> In the presence of
> Thomas Lewin — Matthias Caine
> Tho. Curphey — Margt. Caine late Lewin her X

Mathias and Margaret had moved to Douglas, Isle of Man, by 1819, and continued to live on the Isle of Man until at least 1827, but the 1819 baptism of their daughter Ann at St. George's, Douglas, is our last actual record of Mathias. Margaret and at least four, if not all of her children, immigrated to the United States in 1831. They left from Liverpool and at the time of their departure had Rensselaer County, New York, as their destination[2]. They settled in the village of Schaghticoke, where they buried their daughter Ann in 1835. The census for 1840 of Rensselaer County lists no Mathias Caine, and his wife and one son seem to be included with the family of his son-in-law, John Kewley, at Schaghticoke:

> 1 male aged of 10 and under 15 (i.e. born 1825-30)
> ...
> 1 female aged of 50 and under 60 (i.e. born 1780-90)

It is likely that Mathias immigrated to America, but whether he died here between 1831 and 1840, or had left his wife by 1840, is unknown. In the census of 1850 Margaret Caine is listed as a widow. Their children were[3]:

JANE CAINE born July 4th 1814, of whom further.

---

[1] The family Bible gives his birth date as 1793, but there are one or two other inaccuracies in the Bible, and the entries were made many years after his birth by one of his grandchildren.

[2] from the citizenship application of their son Philip Caine.

[3] In the census for 1865 Margaret Caine stated she had born five children; we have the baptismal records of Jane, Margaret, and Ann, and the family Bible record of Jane, Philip, and Thomas.

Margaret Caine baptised at Kirk Braddan on April 27th 1817. She probably died young, as she is not listed in the family Bible and there is no further record of her.

Ann Caine born, according to her torbstone in November 1820, would seem to be identical with Ann Caine, daughter of Matthew (sic.) Cain and Margaret Lewin, baptized on October 10th 1819, at St. Georre's in Lonlas, Isle of Man. She died on April 6th 1835, at Schaghticoke, and was buried in the Elmwood Cemetery with an Eleanor Strachan, who is unidentified. The inscription on their monument reads:

To the Memory of
ANN CAIN & ELEANOR STRACHAN

ANN CAIN
Died April 6, 1835:
aged 14 years
& 7 mon.

ELEANOR STRACHAN
Died April 17, 1839:
aged 19 years
3 mons & 17 days

ANN & ELEANOR were lovely and pleasant in their lives, and in death their dust is not divided.

Tire how short, Eternity, how long.

Philip Caine was born on March 21st 1825, on the Isle of Man. In 1831 he immigrated to the United States with his family and was brought to Schaghticoke. On October 27th 1848, he appeared before the Troy Justice Court and stated in a signed declaration that he had been born in the Isle of Man, was aged twenty-four, and had been brought to the United States as a minor under the age of eighteen years from Liverpool with Rensselaer County as his intended place of settlement. At this time he was naturalized as a citizen of the United States.

About 1844 he married Caroline - , who had been born in Washington County, New York, in 1823/4. They lived at Schaghticoke, where Philip and his family are listed in the various census records:

October 25th 1850: #1730 #1860

Caroline Kane aged 41 born Washington County, has born 6 children.
Philip Kane, Jr., aged 16 born Rensselaer County.
George Kane aged 14 born Rensselaer County.
Edward Kane aged 10 born Rensselaer County.
Caroline Kane aged 6 born Rensselaer County.

On December 15th 1857, Philip and Thomas Caine took out two mortgages on Schaghticoke property: part of lot 7 and an undivided quarter of lot 7 (Rensselaer County Mortgages, vol.83, pp.128 and 129).

Philip Caine died in Schaghticoke in 1860, leaving a widow and four children. By 1870 the widow had married again, Isaac Crossley, who had been born in England in 1814/5. The census for 1870 lists her at Harts Falls, Schaghticoke, with him and with:

Carrie Kane aged 11 attended school within the year, father of foreign birth, born in New York.
Edward Kane aged 15 wool sorter, father of foreign birth, born N.Y.

The children of Philip and Caroline Caine, all born at Schaghticoke, were:

A. Ann Caine born May 1st 1845, died March 8th 1848, aged two years, ten months, and eight days. She is buried in Elmwood Cemetery.

B. Philip Caine born January 19th 1849. He was left $50.00 from his father's estate.

C. George Caine born January 20th 1851. On his father's death William P. Bliss was appointed his guardian and he was left $250.00 from the estate.

D. Edward Caine born April 20th 1855. He was left $50 from his father's estate.

E. Caroline Caine born June 20th 1859. She was left $50 from her father's estate.

F. a child Caine born and died young before 1865.

5. J. Thomas Caine was born on May 1st 1827. Doubtless he was one of the two individuals engaged in manufacturing or trade in the family of his brother-in-law, John Hawley of Schaghticoke, shown by the census of 1840, where he also seems to be the male aged of ten years and under fifteen. On December 9th 1857, Philip Caine gave Thomas Caine a mortgage for $300, about the same date he granted him a second mortgage for $200. These were sealed on December 14th 1857, in the presence of P.L. Sales, Elihu Bates-Justice, and John P. Ball, clerk. At this time J. Thomas Cain was a resident of Nevada in the State of California[1]. These mortgages were later cancelled when Caroline Kane gave J.Thomas Kane $1.00. On April 8th 1858, John Searl and his wife also gave Thomas Kane a mortgage for $300. Nothing more is known of J. Thomas Caine.

[1] Brown & Dallison's NEVADA, GRASS VALLEY AND TOUGH AND READY DIRECTORY FOR THE YEAR COMMENCING JANUARY 1st 1856, lists: Cain T., miner, house Cayotoville, but lists no Thomas or J. Thomas Cain(e) or Kane.

JANE CAINE was born at Kirk Braddan on the Isle of Man on July 4th 1814[1] and was privately baptized on July 19th 1814; the ceremony was recorded at Kirk Braddan. In 1831 she sailed from Liverpool with her family for America and settled with them at Schaghticoke, Rensselaer County, New York, where she married about 1835 JOHN KEWLEY, son of John and Isabel (Cowley) Kewley of Marown, Isle of Man. She is listed with him in the Schaghticoke census for 1840 as a female of 20 and under 30 years of age. John Kewley was a powder maker and was killed in an explosion in 1849, leaving Jane a widow with five young children. The rest of her life was not easy; she remained in Schaghticoke, where she is found in the various census records:

October 19th 1850, #1561 #1685:

[1] Both Jane Caine's tombstone and the family Bible give 1815 as the year of her birth, but the record of her baptism clearly reads 1814. The reason for this is perhaps the circumstances of her birth, which would also account for the private baptism.

[2] This statement indicates that perhaps the family immigrated in 1829 instead of 1831. Perhaps one statement is in error, or perhaps they did not all come at the same time.

June 16th 1865, Second Election District, #11 framed house worth $900 #14:

About 1866 Jane Caine was listed on the second list of members of the Schaghticoke Methodist Episcopal Church with her mother and her daughters Charlotte and Healthy. She removed by letter from this congregation on September 5th 1872 and apparently lived away from Schaghticoke for several years, as she is not listed there in the census for 1875.

She was always referred to as "Granny Kewley" and is remembered as an exceptionally good natured person; at her death it was said that no one had ever seen her cross or angry. She had large, "jughandle" ears and was especially loved by her grandchildren, who would climb into her lap to listen to fairy stories[1] and who would measure the distance from the tip of one of her ears to the tip of the other; once they had this distance measured, they would run around the room with outstreached hands showing the space between Granny's ears.

[1]Unfortunately no idea of the substance of these stories has come down to us other than the threat: "The fairies will get you if you're not good!" which was used to warn naughty or troublesome children.

Jane Caine died, according to the family Bible, of "La Grippe" at the home of her daughter Margaret in Schaghticoke on May 29th 1900. Her death record in Schaghticoke, recorded on May 30th, reads: Jane Kewley aged 72, widow, housekeeper, born Isle of Man, daughter of Mathias Kane, born Isle of Man, and Margaret Kane, born Isle of Man, died at Schaghticoke after three months sickness of bronchitis, under the care of Dr.Little. She was buried in Elmwood Cemetery, Schaghticoke, under a stone inscribed:

John Kewley born October 21st 1844.

WEALTHY KELLEY born August 31st 1847.

THE NAME KEY
(usually Kay)

Although in records refering to our family this name has, so far, always appeared as Key, Key itself is not a Manx name but is a form of Kay. Kay comes from Mac Aodha, Mac Aoidh, 'son of Aodh' or fire. Aodh has two genitive forms; the Kay series of names comes from Aodha and the Kee series from Aoidh. This is also a very common Irish and Scottish surname. Three branches of the family gave their name to Ballakey in Kirk Lonan, Kirk Bride, and Kirk Andreas. Manx records contain these forms:

Mac Kee	1408,	1429
Mac Kay	1429
Mac Key	1429,	1603, 1761
Ine Kay	1511,	1713
Mac Kae	1515

Very little can be said of ISABEL KEY. Since she bore children from at least 1772 until at least 1794, she was probably born about 1750 or shortly after. As she lived most of her life in the parish of Bradda, she may easily have been born there.

The records for Kirk Braddan show one family at this time to which Isabel could easily belong:

Thomas Key married Isobel (Key?) and had baptized at Kirk Braddan:

Isabel Key daughter of Thos. and Isobel Key baptized May 31st 1750.

Robert Key son of Thos. and Isobel Key baptized February 11th 1752.

Elizabeth Key daughter of Thos. and Isobel Key January 5th 1754.

John Key son of Thos. and Isobel Key baptized May 23rd 1756.

However, also in Kirk Bradden was baptized on May 11th 1755, Isobel, daughter of Xtophr. (Christopher) Key and Kathleen Radcliffe. This Isobel's age is more appropriate for the wife of John Caine, but the family names are not repeated in her children's names as are those of Thomas and Isobel above.

It is worth noting also that in the nearby parish of Marown are three other families:

John Key and Elizabeth Moor had baptized Isable on November 21st 1740, and John on February 22nd 1744. This Isobel seems too old to be the wife of John Caine.

Robert Key and Ann Karran had baptized Isabel on April 3rd 1749, and Robert on March 31st 1754.

Robert Kay (sometimes Kay) and Elinor Kelley had baptized:

Isable baptized on March 25th 1750.
Robert baptized on March 11th 1753.
Thomas baptized on March 31st 1754.
Catherine baptized on June 10th 1757.

Regardless of her parentage, our Isabel Key married about 1770 JOHN CAINE of Doaalley weare, Kirk Braddan, and had:

William Caine baptized June 28th 1772.
Robert Caine baptized June 5th 1774.
Philip Caine baptized August 18th 1776.
Elinor Caine baptized February 14th 1779.
Isabel Caine baptized March 25th 1781.
Thomas Caine baptized January 18th 1784.
James Caine baptized February 19th 1786.
MATHIAS CAINE baptized July 25th 1790.
Elizabeth Caine baptized February 9th 1794.
perhaps John Caine, Jr.

THE NAME LEWIN

Lewin comes from Mac Giolla Eoin from the Manx Mac Guilley Eoin, 'son of Giolla Eoin' or the son of the servant of Saint John. Manx records show these forms:

Mac Gilleyn	1498
Mac Gilleon	1511
Mac Gillewn	1540
Clewing (?)	1575
Lewen	1611
Lewne	1611

GILNOE LEWIN lived on the quarterland of Arderry, which lies in Onchan Parish, the Isle of Man, but which overlaps into Kirk Braddan. He married JANE CRYER and had at least one child: Thomas Lewin, baptized at Kirk Braddan on September 19th 1756. Gilnoe Lewin of Arderry made his will in 1798; in it he mentions his grand-daughter Margaret Lewin.

THOMAS LEWIN, baptized at Kirk Braddan on September 19th 1756, married there on August 30th 1783, MARGARET QUINE, daughter of Patrick and Ann (Cottiman) Quine; their marriage record reads:

> Thomas Lewn and Margaret Quine both of this parish were marryd in this church by License this 30th. day of August 1783 by me
> Tho. L. J. Woods Vicar.
> This marriage was solemnised between us in the presence of
> Thos Curphey — Thos. Lewn his mark X
> John Quine — Margt. Lewn late Quine her mark X

Thomas and Margaret had at least:

> Thomas Lewin son of Thomas Lewin and Margaret Quine baptized at Kirk Braddan on August 15th 1784. He is probably the Thomas Lewin who signed the marriage record of his sister Margaret at Kirk Braddan in 1814.
> Margaret Lewin daughter of Thomas Lewin and Margaret Quine baptized at Kirk Braddan on February 15th 1795. Her father is recorded in this record as Thomas Lewin, Arderry.

MARGARET LEWIN, baptized at Kirk Braddan, Isle of Man, on February 15th 1795[1], the daughter of Thomas Lewin of Arderry and Margaret Quine, was mentioned by her grandfather, Gilnoe Lewin, in his will of 1798. It became necessary for her to marry when she was nineteen, and on April 9th 1814, she married at Kirk Braddan MATHIAS CAINE, son of John and Isabel (Key) Caine of Boailley Beare. By 1819 they seem to have moved to Douglas, and in 1829/31, they sailed from Liverpool for the United States, where they settled at Schaghticoke, Rensselaer County, New York. It is not known what happened to Mathias, but in 1840 Margaret seems to have been living at Schaghticoke with her son-in-law, John Kewley, where the census lists a female aged of fifty and under sixty, otherwise unidentified. Further census records list her at Schaghticoke in the family of her widowed daughter, Jane:

October 19th 1850, #1561 #1685:

> Margaret Culey [Caine] aged 52 female born Isle of Man.

June 9th 1855, Second Election District, #22:

> Margaret Cane aged 59 female mother born Isle of Man, alien.

---

[1] Margaret Lewin, known to her descendants as "Granny Caine", is given the birthdate March 5th 1796, in the family Bible, but the entry was made after 1900. Her maiden name appears in the Bible of Elizabeth Beecroft Hutchins, her great-granddaughter.

August 10th 1860, #239 #92:

Margaret Kane aged 60 female born England.

June 6th 1865, Second Election District, #11 #15:

Margaret Kane aged 67 female mother born Isle of Man, mother of five children, married once, widowed, now single.

July 9th 1870, #41 #56:

Margaret Cain aged 73 white female keeping house born Isle of Man, can read but not write, parents of foreign birth.

She and her daughter Jane and two granddaughters are listed in the second list of members received by the Schaghticoke Methodist Episcopal Church, probably drawn up about November 13th 1865. In 1872 her daughter Jane transferred from this congregation by letter, and as neither one is listed in the 1875 census for Schaghticoke, they evidently moved away briefly. However, they had returned by 1879, when the Methodist records show that Margaret Caine "died in the lord June 9th 1879." She was buried in the Elmwood Cemetery at Schaghticoke under a stone marked:

THE NAME QUINE

This name comes from the Old Norse (Mac) Sveinn, the son of a boy, a page, or a servant. In Skye the name is Mac Suain. The Anglo-Scottish form is Mac Swan. In the Manx name the initial s is aspirated, thus Mac Hweinn forming Mac Quyn. Sveinn was the name of a Norse king. Manx records contain these forms:

Mac Quyn	1403, 1417, 1511
Mac Quyne	1511

Mac Qwyne	1540
